A FEW THINGS TO BE CONSIDERED BEFORE BUYING VIA THE INTERNET

- 1) Can you be sure that what you are ordering is exactly what you will get?
- 2) Will it fit in your home and operate correctly in conjunction with your chimney type or will you be left with a product that is of no value to you?
- 3) Will the person who has sold it to you still be in business next week if there is a problem or technical issue which needs resolving?
- 4) Will the sales person be able to back up the sale of the appliance with the company's own engineers and installation service?
- 5) Will the company be around to service your appliance or carry out any repairs in years to come?

We regularly hear of people who thought they had bought a bargain on the internet but have ended up with problems. This is why we do not sell our products on the internet

We recommend that all our fires are installed by Gas Safe Register engineers in accordance with our instructions.
